WIZARD LEARNING ADDS EXTRA PRACTICE EXAM PACKAGES

Wizard Learning, the online training specialists, has added practice exam packages for Diploma subject J07 Supervision in a regulated environment & Advanced Diploma subject AF1 Personal tax and trust planning.

Each of these additional exam packages consists of three case studies with associated multiple choice questions concentrating on key syllabus areas and two full practice exams, one of which is self marked whilst the other can be submitted to a qualified tutor for marking and feedback. The tutor marked paper will normally be marked with 7 days.

The inclusion of these extra practice exam packages bolsters Wizards' already extensive range of learning aids which currently contains subjects J01, J02, J04, J05, J06, AF3 & CF5.

Wizard Learning's text based courses include a number of specialist features to provide a wide variety of online learning solutions for recognised industry qualifications as well as online training on key skills. As well as receiving online access to a full set of study notes, purchasers will have the opportunity to complete revision questions on each section, a full final revision assessment, a case study with questions and a final mini exam.

Mike Goldsmith, managing director at Wizard Learning, commented:

"Wizard Learning's practice examination packages have proved to be an excellent way of ensuring that any final preparation is tightly focused on the revision areas that are needed the most.

"The other subject areas we have launched have proved extremely popular and due to this positive feedback we will continue to target the areas in which financial professionals require the most help. We are delighted that we are consistently helping people achieve their goals of successfully completing these important examinations."
